Welcome to Kuwait Aviation Show 2020!

The second edition of the biennial Kuwait Aviation Show returns this year, bringing together major players on aviation and aerospace industries from Gulf Cooperation Council member states, the Middle East and beyond.

Following the success of the show's first edition in 2018, the four-day Kuwait Aviation Show 2020 (15-18 January) aims once again to be an important platform of choice for industry leaders to showcase innovative aviation solutions, engage on quality discussions on industry challenges as well as forge strategic partnerships to unlock and drive growth potential on aviation in Kuwait and the Middle East in general.

Under the leadership of the Emir of Kuwait, Sheikh Sabah Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah, Kuwait continues to move forward in developing the country's aviation industry through substantial investments on new infrastructure, technologies and people.

Aviation's growing importance in Kuwait's largely oil-based economy is visibly noticeable with passenger traffic in 2018 at Kuwait International Airport rising to 15,813,608 from 13,735,580 in 2017, up by 15 percent.

Cargo volumes at the airport are also steadily rising. In 2016, it recorded 195,515 metric tons of cargo handled. In 2017, the figure rose to 241,663 metric tons which further grew to 249,531 in 2018.

The rise in cargo and passenger volumes in this tiny oil-rich country is directly correlated to the increase on expatriate population which has increased at a CAGR of 3.5% between 2013 and 2018. A hospitable country, Kuwait continues to develop its tourism industry with new attractions and unique tourism experience.

With passenger volume projected to grow even more in the coming years, Kuwait International Airport continues to plan and implement projects that will adequately support future demand. These include expanding Terminal 2, which when opened in 2022, will allow the airport to accommodate up to 25 million passengers with state-of-the-art facilities equipped with modern technologies.

The airport's extension project plays an important role in Kuwait's long-term aviation plans with the national carrier, Kuwait Airways, planning to upgrade its fleet and overhaul its operations to increase its profitability & regional competitiveness. Other airlines serving the Kuwait route are also looking at expanding their networks.

Geographically, Kuwait is only about an eight-hour flight for two-thirds of the world's population and less than 4 hours for one-third, giving it that advantage to serve the world's growing demand for aviation services.

We hope Kuwait Aviation Show 2020 will empower you with useful insights and information as well as experience on aviation and its growing importance in facilitating global trade in today's digital economy.
